

Everyone's after their own life for the success and fame,

Everyone wants money and time and help with the family name;

Everyone needs a living and food to nourish and supply,

All the good things of giving we each get back when we deny.

Everyone's after their own life to live and to say they know,

Everyone's after their own time to put money in the bank to grow;

Everyone's after their own life and we each have to pay the price,

The cost of living and keeping is suffering for our own things nice.

Everyone's after their own life to love and with wife to have,

Precious money that is always meaning better style that gave;

Everyone's after their own life instead of leaving up to God,

Everyone wants to be like God but that makes them different and odd.

Everyone's after their own life instead of loving and giving to others.

We really need more volunteers and love for sisters and brothers;

Everyone's working for betterment when everything costs the earth,

Everyone's after their own life and there's so much time since birth.

Everyone's after their own life with each little consideration,

Everyone's contemplation how much they can make with concentration;

Everyone's after their own life with trouble and turmoil and strife,

Everyone's got to have contentment when they want their own life.

Everyone's after their own life with the accumulation of possessions,

Everyone's aiming to be perfect but won't rest with the less potential;

Everyone's aiming to live long that means giving it away,

That when were after our own life we really need to suffer and pay.

If I can make my own
