

There is always tomorrow so why do everything today,
When yesterday has passed and gone its own way;
You are there to show and light the new day,
So we know which way you have us go to find the key.

If I work hard I know you will reward me father,
With treasures untold to surpass the disasters.
Yours is the right way for us to live and walk,
To come to you in prayer and have us in heaven to talk.

For peace and righteousness is the true way,
To live free of pain and torment and hell;
Yours is the perfect way for us in heaven to dwell,
Don't put off till tomorrow, because yours is now, forever more.

I love you God, your throne is heaven to dwell,
Your heart and mind is peace forever;
In gentle love you show us well,
To live and reign with you forever.

I hear you say and ask us now,
To make a decision for you today,
That we might have love and life with you now,
In eternal change and all types of weather.

Hold on to us Lord and never let us go,
For the past, today and tomorrow;
You sit and reign upon the throne,
And where the crown and gown of love alone.

Signed,

The day is always here.
