

The monarchy is the royal family from medieval times,
Down through the ages to the modern family inclined;
With king and queen and princes and princesses,
We have a royal family who live in castles grandeur.

The monarchy reigns and rules with power and might,
With kindness and judgement they see their hearts delight;
From one coronation to the next or abdication,
The king or queen takes their time in humble admiration.

The monarchy is like a governing body that leads and helps the people,
To see how to live their lives by acceptable living example;
The subjects are in their place to admire and accept the decisions,
That the right way to live may be clear and evident.

Now there is beauty in the hearts as the people see their monarchs,
Lead and guide and demonstrate reliable ways of truth;
For the love of living is in the everyday delights,
Of majesty and monarchy in their heavenly reign and rule.

God knows the hearts of many a man and ruler.
He is there as the ultimate power to oversee the monarchy;
They are His subjects in the almighty power of things,
He decides the start and end of every single thing.

Then monarchy comes from God in heaven high above,
They only have as much power as he will give and allow;
For the earth is His and the people are only stewards in a form,
Of monarchs and royal families to lead us out of the dark.

Signed,

Ruling Angels