

The provocation of Parsifal is probably hard to decide,

For the province and provincial are a problem to reside;

And the provocation of the property is a proper vacation,

Where the provocative promise is a force to build a nation.

So the production and provocation are productive to design,

Where the requirements and assertion inclines to resign;

For the laziness and relaxation of reading and not writing,

Is inviting provocation for the doing and not the right sighting.

So if you're deciding to the siding it's deciding the right signing,

And the signature and the reason is property in confiding;

For the name and provocation of pursuit and the writing,

Is insulting and degrading and a result of sexual lightning.

Now the professor prescribes a pill for the doctor to produce,

Which a script is written for the people for things in use;

And the crypt in Egypt is better for the ancient provocation,

Where God though Dad was Mum and I a new reproduction.

So the provocation seems fair to where you roam to home,

And you need to clean up and get redressed and comb;

For not matter where you go people will look at your hair,

And that stems from years ago but is frequently cut like air.

So now the provocation is a good reason for a long time,

When all of you want the money and I am words in rhyme;

So if you want to part with a little bit of your spare cash,

Ask whether Britain's better or written like a bit of ash.

Signed,

Burn a Bible