

I love to sing a song of love and I sing all forever,

I want to let you know how I feel as singing story tellers;

So ill sing you a song you can sing and remember on forever,

Of how we won the battle to end war through singing songs in heaven.

Now the beauty of the voice is in the joy of songs forever,

Where the colour in the picture is richer when sing clever;

For all the things you need are found in the love of songs forever,

As the best of life is getting songs from turning sin to sing as ever.

And songs are sung as songs to sing to sing under the sun forever,

As the signs of the times are directed and pointed to sing forever,

Like the smile you give when you say goodbye is always songs I'm saying,

For the hope is in the best you can do from failure to success.

Songs forever, songs forever I will sing on for eternity,

For you give me strength and courage to defeat infinity;

As a song is sung forever to create the sweetest harmony,

And the note that goes is held so long for the music money.

So ill sing you a song to last forever and forever you will sing,

That the meaning is the right thing to do is sung forever to ring;

Because the memory of magic noise is the subtly sounds of love,

When the perfection of the voices blends to the ears of God above.

Now the songs I sing forever are all the things I know to sing,

And the payment and the joy are in the explosion of the air thing;

For the choir of angels love to sing forever in the realms of heaven,

Where the songs that are always sung forever are always believing even.
