

Get out of bed for it, there's money to be made today

It's well worth the effort if you take the time to decide to do it;

There's no good sleeping in, being lazy enough to waste away the day,

Get out of bed for it and the world will welcome you to a new day.

Get out of bed for it, to write for lines and I am beat,

Thinking four lions are hungry and they all want something to eat;

There's a killer looking worried while he's being hunted by police,

So now I'm running out of ideas and want to go back to bed.

Get out of bed for it if you're hungry and life is passing you by,

Started to work its way at you to annoy you to get you to try;

You have got to understand that there's more than wasting is all away,

When life is a stake and the purpose is to live that little bit longer.

Get out of bed for it when all you need is love to help you through,

And children are wanting breakfast and there's work for something new;

Get out of bed for it when the lawns for to be mowed and cut,

When the bin has got to go out and people are moving ahead but.

Get out of bed for it for there is a meaning and reason for living,

There is a method in the madness of loving and learning giving;

Get out of bed for it when you change the country for the better,

When you can write a successful system to the t and the letter.

Get out of bed for it and wake up to the new reality of life,

Living for an improvement and admiring the history and the strife;

Where the honor and the privilege is to have something to show for it,

That the day turns to night again it's all worthwhile and don't quit.

Signed,

A charge for the better
