

The greatest is love,
But truth is important;
Everyone needs hope,
And there's not much chance of that.

People always want money,
But it's dollars in the bank that count;
You make a statement and get a balance,
But there's never enough time for that,
It's good to have your health.

But wealth is always just as attractive,
The world's a beautiful place;
But there's sin on earth that corrupts it,
Jesus has a brilliant mind,

But gods never anywhere he can be found.
So give me one more day each day;
And let me find the words of peace to say.
What I'm looking for is faith.
That there might be an intelligent woman around.

Signed,

Single and lonely
