

Believe in your heard what you see with your eyes,
But watch for clever things in some disguise;
You know what is right because you can see,
The right from their wrong and what is the key.

Theres some things in life we simply despise,
And this is not wrong if you're humble and wise;
Don't be a fool for this is apparent to most,
Don't through the eyes of God and the truth of the ghost.

Use your eyes wisely and don't fall into sin,
So you may in this life just simply win;
It is not dumb to seek after God,
But use your eyes to sort the good from the odd.

Now don't be disturbed by what's wrong in the world.
But trust in the lord who provides and who hurled;
For trouble will come back on those who disobey,
And Gods understand people who fret and dismay.

You mi9ght say what has all this to do with the eyes,
For the soul is seen through the eyes with laughter that cries;
Discover the beauty in God all around,
Through life and the people and things that abound.
