

Fundamentability require coordination,
Writing poetry gives relaxation;
Mountains of it generates taxation,
It's a good way to give facts to the nation.

There's no idea where you can go from here,
Just start a revolution and get the idea;
It's a pleasure that satisfies the need of the heart,
From the soul of the matter by being smart.

And if you think you can give it away that easy,
It's so easy to get away with it all;
That fact is though it's got to rhyme and fall,
Into the line and scheme of the things on the ball.

Or if you think you have now chance or way,
It will be right as things go at the end of the day;
And there not much chance of letting everything go wrong,
Just sit back with some music and let's hear a song.

And this motion and rhyme goes along way,
Without the commotion and logic or chance to stray;
That the tax will pay all the bills and thrills each day,
As the problem goes away and goes its own way.

For what is the love in the chance change or choice,
If you're writing a rhyme you're not singing or losing your voice;
The torture comes now as you turn around to face,
The end of the poem to see the whole human race.

Signed,

A bit tense