

A strange word called love,
Fills my heart with joy;
A strange word call love,
Reaches beyond the sky above.

A strange word call love,
It's such a sully thing;
A strange word called love,
Means to me everything.

A strange word call love,
Teaches me about the truth;
A strange word called love,
Supplies me with all living proof.

A strange word called love,
Let's me think I don't know;
A strange word called love,
Enables my mind to grow.

A strange word called love,
Is a beautiful as a bird in the spring;
A strange word called love,
Gives me the love you bring.

A strange word called love,
Is better than all I possess;
A strange word called love,
Is more than heaven and can never bless,

Signed,

It's a little bit funny
