

Sad heart sad minds,
Glad heart smart kinds;
Sad heart few tears,
Nice smile, smart while.

Sad heart when things go wrong,
That you don't get what you want;
But of bitter lemon sure,
Twists your emotions who power.

Enjoying the looks of a smile made,
Worrying and waiting if I make the grade;
Life doesn't matter I only wanted a drink,
When a good song comes on the link.

But here where it hurts it turns around,
Into a sweet poetry in motion above ground;
Like the leaves fall in autumn as they should,
Or the rain drops slide down the window pane good.

It's a mellow kind of feeling eating into your heart,
A faint kind of feeling that leaves you sad heart;
Like a jolt in the shoulder or pain in the heart,
A sad heart can be starting and leave you quite sad.

It's a mixed up emotion this love that I feel,
The blossoming beauty of sweetness so real;
When it all was outright and truth is revealed,
That your high in the heavens and you sad was steel.

Signed,

A new day
