Fair maiden love, From God above; Through medieval, And middle age stars.

My cousin dear, Of beauty rare; So kind in heart, Her love to share.

A thousand times, Does one such soul; Walk earth upon, From years now gone.

To talk o f such, To her is to share; The feelings deep, From deep despair.

How nice it is, To know and say; Her touch of good, Along the way.

So tell me now, Marion my friend; Are you your time, Or time to mend.

Signed,

Darel
