

As the sun sits in the sky and as the moon changes the tide,
So does a man take a woman for his bride;
To honour and cherish, to have and to hold,
But the greatest of all, is I'm love and loyalty I'm told.

Loyalty you see is for everyone to enjoy,
With our wives and our friends and those who employ;
As loyalty is what makes all things right,
So royalty uses and gains by its light.

Kingdoms will come and kingdoms will go,
But one stays around for all men to know;
You see the greatest gift is from God, was His son,
Where loyalty is in his kingdom, he's to be number one.

Some say its the quest, to find earth bound riches,
Others work for their lives on the roads digging ditches;
For me life's a challenge to find what is right,
And loyalty to me is good in God's sight.

Signed

Being loyal
