

I always plan to do things right and it is the computer that will er,

For people use positive reinforcement to remember if it was he or her;

Now positive reinforcement is to make sure you get the things right,

That you teach people properly and through positive reinforcement, write.

Â

Positive reinforcement is what makes the world really go around,

When people need encouragement and med stay on earth to maintain their ground;

You see when people are always positive, more things seem to get done,

Which is better than being negative, making sure money's not gone and none.

Â

You see if we always do things the same way nothing will ever change,

But it is when we exercise authority and make decisions to rearrange,

That we create a new opportunity with a window to see right through,

Then we can use positive reinforcement to manage and maintain too.

Â

It means always backing up the other person, giving praise to things well done,

And appreciating the situation of others, letting them know how you like the fun,

For a smile gives way to happiness and plenty of people really like,

That you can build personality and character giving people a better life.

Â

And when we have been wrong many times and really gone our own way,

There is someone there looking down on you and leading you back all day;

For coming unstuck sometimes is part of life but it is finding the right way back,

For when you have positive reinforcement, it helps you to stay on track.

Â

Now it is a strong imposition and reassurance to have this on mine,

To be constantly having confirmation that life is really good and kind;

For your information the strength of it depends on what's really weak,

For in positive reinforcement, it is fixing the mess through the bleak.

Â

Signed,

Get it right first time