

Believe in yourself if you want to dare,

For me it is my God that is beyond compare;

Take time out just to sit and to think,

And rest a while to establish a link.

Why is everybody always in such a hurry?

When they stop for a break all they do is worry;

Some say that to have patience is really such a virtue,

While others just think that to have patience there true.

Others say you should have the patience of Job,

As business goes on all around the globe;

The Lord comes unto those that upon whom will wait,

In the order decided by him and the state.

You don't have to be the first one to cross the line,

But as long as you finish you will know that it's fine;

I don't mind waiting I think that's the way,

It gives me the time to think what to say.

Now who am I to decide what's really right,

As if I know whose holding and shining the light;

What I want now is to know and to learn,

That one day I'm blessed with all that I earn.

Patience is just being kind day to day,

While the weather will change in its wonderful way;

So look to the future and remember the past,

And enjoy every second so that the present will last.

Signed,

I'm patient.
