

What is a castle without a king?

It wouldn't be a kingdom just a sad thing;

What about the land and the crown and the throne,

It would be a wrong thing if the king didn't own.

Though who is the greatest in the kingdom of God,

It is a child and yet that may seem odd;

Though children are our future and that is the truth,

Like a queen means everything under the king's roof.

The kingdom is a world where God has the reigns,

When the earth turns in space it rains on the plains;

The kingdom is a place where people are in paradise,

And this is what it's like and means to be Parsifal.

The kingdom is like numbers that all add up the same,

The answer to the problem is that it's only just a game;

Is now the understanding of what was talked about in parables?

For the times have changed and we're living out the parallels.

The kingdom is like a stray that found a greener pasture,

And is rising and meeting the one eternal master;

The king is like an ant that climbed the highest mountain,

And his queen is like a church that flows an eternal fountain.

Well the time is ripe for the kingdom and the empire,

Where knights and chivalry are like gentlemen who inquire;

And the kingdom is a kindness that gives us all a hope,

Now living in perfection where the devil has to cope.

Signed,

God is King.
