

Am I happy with myself? do I have a big ego?

Do you look like me, or do you know where he goes?

I get my personality from reading through books,

With my face and hair showing with heart happy looks.

I must eat good food and keep my teeth clean,

So that the words of my mouth will all have to mean;

A bubbly or sparkling soul from the water of that kind,

I'm well in my heart and have a brilliant thing mind.

I look out to God for the things that I like,

And he gives me back his love to have a beautiful life;

My personality also comes from the things that I write,

And the scenery and people I see in the light.

I want to be smart but have to be clever in heart,

And be a bit humble when all the great has to start;

I do what I want and try to have what I like,

And have to say what I need to help keep me out of strife.

The Life comes from the world of the word not the bird,

And the looks are of grace and the thoughts I have heard;

My personality is mine but was split between two,

Of people and things and what money is meant to do.

I love a nice woman who has felt out my need,

Who looks to my heart and sees all I lead;

I walk and I talk with her and do sit down to read,

So she can be mine and want to still be the bead.

Signed,

It's in my head.
